BALLOON IS RECOVERED

America I Reaches New York From the Wilds of Canada

New York, Feb. 20.—The American I, the balloon in which Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post won the 1910 race for the Coupe International des Aeronauts and which they were compelled to abandon in the cache in the Canadian wilds, has just reached New York, having been brought out of the forest by a party of expert guides.

To the delight of Mr. Hawley, the big bag was found to be in practically unharmed condition. If the airship is found, upon a more detailed examination, to be fit for the purpose, Mr. Hawley expects to enter it in the race again this year.

WORLD'S MARKETS

STOCKS ARE INFLUENCED BY COURT UNCERTAINTIES

New York, Feb. 20.—Opening quotations in the stock market in most cases showed a decline from Saturday's final figures. Reading, St. Paul, and Consolidated Gas each lost a point, United States Steel 3/8, and Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific 1/2. Missouri Pacific gained 1/4 and Southern Railway, 1/2.

There was an absence of demand at the low levels and the market grew dull. International Harvester improved 3/8, with the rise attributed to the expectations of favorable developments at the directors' meeting today.

Speculation was at a low ebb during the morning session. Resumption of the sessions of the supreme court, with the possibility of decisions in cases of especial interest, to Wall street and the increased likelihood of an extra session of congress, continuing to restrain traders and even at the lower levels of prices established there was little demand. The rise of 3 1/2 in International Harvester was more than cancelled by realizing and selling. At mid-day the market was fractionally above the low level.

Bonds were steady.

FOUGHT ON HOUSETOP

Police and Black Hand Have a Desperate Encounter

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Trailing through the snow on top of a four-story building on West Randolph street, Nicolò C. Trappino, believed by the police to be a member of the "Black Hand" society, engaged in a desperate battle with night detectives, when they climbed to the roof in a shower of bullets. Trappino had only a few minutes before wounded a countryman.

Tracks in the snow, leading to a fire escape, were found by a policeman with his flashlight. Detective Joyce mounted the rungs. Trappino crawled to the edge of the roof and warned his trailer.

A bullet whizzed through Joyce's hat. Other shots were fired by the Italian.

Trappino, seeing he was outnumbered, retreated to a chimney and sought to reload his revolver. While he was fumbling with the weapon he was seized by Detective Joyce and the two men went rolling and fighting over the roof. Several times both were clinging to the edge and were drawn back by the other policeman.

Trappino finally struck a blow on the head and subdued.

At the hospital he was identified by Phillip Cappitelli, brother of the man Trappino shot, who was seated at his brother's bedside.

WORKERS ON THE MARCH

Industrials Are Suffering on Their Journey to Fresno

Montague, Cal., Feb. 20.—The marching band of Industrial Workers of the World, that is on its way to Fresno to join in the fight for free speech, has been delayed by about a third. Fifty men have been sent back by the leaders for refusing to conform to the rules of travel, and a few have found the stress of the journey too severe. Hardly more than a hundred men were in the party that camped here last night.

One of the party is in the hospital today with both feet frozen. He was brought to the city last night by train, his fare having been paid by comrades.

The pilgrims have refused an offer of the railroad to carry them back to their homes in the north.

A police force has been organized in the little army to ensure that the march shall be peaceable and orderly.

STORM OF GREAT BENEFIT TO FARMERS
Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 20.—Coming on the heels of two seasons of drought and a winter that has been the driest in sixteen years, the snows and rains of last week throughout the whole of New Mexico mean an upward shift from season to the crop farmer. It is still snowing today west and southwest of here.

The mountains and high ranges are covered with from one to three feet of snow. The snow is general over northern Arizona, with rain in the southern part assuring a good season in that territory. Dry farmers who were driven out by the drought are beginning to come back.

MASSACRED BY TROOPS

Inhabitants of a Town in Hayti Are Put to Death

Cape Haytien, Feb. 20.—Governor's troops, after recapturing Ouanaminthe from the rebels, got out of the control of their officers; pillaged and burned the town and massacred those of the inhabitants who were unable to escape.

Jeanne Prosper, a citizen of France, was assaulted, his 18-year-old son killed and his home burned.

HE IS HUMAN SHUTTLECOCK

New York, Feb. 20.—Benjamin Rosenthal, the human shuttlecock, who has been tossed backward and forward between here and Panama in the last two months, has been ordered deported by the immigration authorities and will be sent to Russia on the first available ship.

Rosenthal, a native of Russia, was charged when he came to the United States from Panama, with being identified with traffic in women. Panama declined to receive him when he was first returned there and sent him back to the United States.

If Russia refuses to receive him, he will find himself a man without a country or a flag.

BRITISH OFFICERS ARE PUT TO DEATH

Brisbane, Australia, Feb. 20.—Word was received today from Papua, a division of the island of New Guinea, of the massacre of Stanforth Smith, the British administrator of Papua, two white officers and a party of natives by inhabitants of the interior. Smith, accompanied by the officers, twelve native police and fourteen carriers, left Port Moresby, the capital of Papua, on November 18, to explore the interior. The party was last heard from on December 7. Subsequently searchers were sent out and these have failed to return.

WOUNDED OFFICERS

Special Car of Injured Is Evidence of Heavy Fighting

Toronto, Feb. 20.—(Via El Paso)—A passenger train on the Mexican National was held up here by a band of insurgents, who burned the Loma bridge to stop the train. A third class passenger car was searched for arms and all arms taken. The train was allowed to return to Toronto, where a construction train, with a hundred soldiers aboard, was made up to go and make repairs. The soldiers occupied the four armored cars recently sent here from Mexico City. The train and troops were not molested. At night 200 cavalrymen were sent from here to Avila, the first station south and heavy firing has been heard.

This band of insurgents is not the same which took Velarde and Cuernavaca earlier in the week. That band is now at Hacienda Cruz, which was taken Thursday. It was one of the best armed ranches in the state of Durango and all arms were taken, also sixty-five horses.

A special car, containing fifteen wounded federal officers, passed through here today from Chihuahua, bound for Mexico City, which shows that there has been some hot fighting in Chihuahua state lately.

REBELLION IS SERIOUS

So Admitted by One of the Members of the Diaz Cabinet

Paris, Feb. 20.—In a review of the crisis in Mexico, made today for the Associated Press, Jose Lamantour, minister of finance in the cabinet of President Diaz, declared that the only basis for peace was that the insurgents lay down their arms pending a reform of the evils that made the revolution possible.

The only alternative that he foresaw was the probability of a long wasting struggle, for, said the minister, "the federal troops are no match for the cowboy insurgents."

In the opinion of Senator Lamantour, the federal system in Mexico must go. For himself, the minister said he had no political ambitions, though he had been frequently urged to contest the presidency with President Diaz. He expects to start home within two weeks.

"I have no political aspirations," said Senator Lamantour, in concluding the interview. "I seek merely the uplifting of my country. I have often been asked to run for the presidency but have refused. I expect to leave Paris in a fortnight for New York and to proceed thence by steamer to Yucatan for a private visit."

Minister Lamantour came to Paris early last August in order that his wife, who is in ill health, might receive medical treatment here. Before leaving Mexico, he declined a nomination for the presidency and, though he remained in the cabinet, it was rumored that his relations with President Diaz were not as close as formerly. The minister makes three suggestions:

"First—The abuses, contaminating local administration in the cities and towns, which the grosser grievances, should be immediately abolished."

"Second—Some means should be found to allow the people to share more extensively in the holdings of land."

"In the third place, there is opposition to President Diaz on the ground that he has been too long in office and that new blood is needed to direct the affairs of the Republic."

"But," added the minister, "Diaz was legally returned to the presidency by the people."

"I dislike to touch on the delicate question of neutrality," continued the minister, "but I am convinced that the United States interpretation is."

KOTOKU ATTACKS CHRISTIANITY

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 20.—Mail advices received yesterday from Japan report that Denjiro Kotoku, the leader of the anarchists recently executed, left a book which has since been published in Tokyo, seeking to prove that Christ never lived and that much of the Bible is fiction. He holds that the best religious teachings did not originate in Christianity.

EXPLOSION AT CONVENT

Black Hand Supposed to Have Made a Mistake

New York, Feb. 20.—A hundred girls, inmates of the St. Cecilia convent on East 166th street, were thrown into a panic early today by the explosion of a dynamite bomb in the street a few feet from the entrance to the convent. The bomb did practically no damage, but the noise of the explosion was terrific and buildings for a block or more in every direction were shaken.

The inmates of the convent were asleep in their dormitory quarters at the time, but, at the sound of the bursting bomb, they jumped out of their beds and rushed in terror to stairways and fire-escapes. The sisters quieted them with difficulty, while the convent watchman rushed from his room in the cellar to investigate.

On reaching the street, the watchman caught sight of a carriage being driven rapidly away. It disappeared in the shadows of the elevated railroad structure. The watchman gave chase, but could get no trace of the carriage.

In the trail of the carriage the watchman picked up a package wrapped in paper and heavily corded. It contained the second bomb, unexploded and loaded with about a pound of dynamite.

The police believe that the bombs were intended not for the convent, but for a wealthy Italian physician, whose residence adjoins the institution. The physician admitted to the police that he had received a threatening letter purporting to come from the "Black Hand," and demanding money on pain of having his house blown up.

BULL FIGHT IS EXCITING

Matador Saves the Life of Gonzales, the Mexican Hero

Madrid, Feb. 20.—Carlos Gonzales, the celebrated Mexican bull fighter, made his debut here yesterday at Plaza Tetuan, and met with an accident, which furnished much excitement to the large crowd of spectators.

The first bull Gonzales was to kill rushed him and caught him between his horns and threw him with great violence.

It was at first thought that the infuriated animal had caught Gonzales on his horns, goring him, and the excitement among the spectators was intense.

The animal was on the point of rushing at the prostrate matador when another matador performed the act called "quite," which consisted of drawing the bull's attention to him by displaying a cape and then dispatching the bull.

This is a performance which, when well done, always awakens the enthusiasm of the spectators, and men threw money, cigars and other things to the second matador, while women threw him flowers, fans and pieces of jewelry. Gonzales was not seriously hurt.

MARRIAGE BILLS SHELVED.

Salem, Ore., Feb. 20.—The Oregon legislature adjourned without passing the bill to prohibit marriages between whites and Asiatics. In the closing hours of the session, on Saturday night, an effort was made to press the measure through to final passage, but the senate shelved it with an indefinite postponement.

Cataldo, a grocerman on Clinton street, was last night in his darkened store and saw a couple of the bomb throwers. He had kept vigil for several nights. Just before dawn the grocerman saw two figures near his door getting ready to set off a bomb.

Cataldo blazed away with a revolver and the "Black Hand" fled. The police searched the neighborhood without result.

Y. M. C. A. WILL NOT UNIONIZE

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—The San Francisco labor council has received from the directors of the local Young Men's Christian association a letter of refusal in reply to a request that the employees of the association should be unionized. The directors say they cannot endorse the "closed shop," as the association is not in business for profit. They employ persons in need, and consider it would be unjust to force such men to join unions.

The letter states that the San Francisco labor council is the only organization of the kind in the world that has ever made such a request.

RAILROADS MUST BE PAID CASH

Washington, Feb. 20.—Only money, and not advertising, can be accepted by interstate railroads in payment for transportation, according to an interpretation announced today by the supreme court of the United States of the Hepburn rate law of 1906.

The decision involves a large number of contracts between the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville railroad company and various publishers.

A NEW FORM OF BOMB OUTRAGE

New York, Feb. 20.—A new variety of bomb outrage was worked here last night, when in fernal machine was exploded on the roof of a six-story tenement on the lower East Side. Heretofore bombs have been thrown in hallways, cellars and in lower windows, but never before on a New York rooftop. The explosion, supposedly the work of the "Black Hand," tore a great hole in the roof and wrecked one apartment. Five persons were slightly hurt.

GOLD BRICK IS REJECTED

Mining Men Offer It in Payment For a Small Bill

New York, Feb. 20.—That it might be hard to dispose of a real gold brick, worth $1,900, at any price in New York, has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of half a dozen Canadian mine owners who are here for a director's meeting. They were lunching together last night at an up-town hotel, when a discussion arose as to the possibility of selling a real gold brick to a New Yorker. One of the mining men had in his pocket a small brick of pure gold, which had brought from British Columbia as a sample of the product of a mine there, and, to settle it, he offered it in payment of the luncheon.

He approached the cashier in his most affable style and displayed the brick of metal. He insisted that the gold brick was of genuine metal, and suggested that he would give to the cashier in payment of the $14 luncheon check. The cashier has made his home in New York for ten years, and he did not hesitate to inform the general customer that he would not pay 30 cents for the brick. He was so confident that an attempt was being made to victimize him that he called the house detective. When the latter hustled around to arrest the mining man, he was shown the brick and informed that it contained $1,900 worth of pure gold.

HOLDING UP THE PUBLIC

Retail Dealers Continue to Exact High Prices For Goods

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Caught by the breaking of the cold-storage warehouse corner on eggs and butter, Chicago consumers are being held up by retail dealers who are holding up prices and preventing disposal of their surplus stock.

While the wholesale prices of eggs and butter have depreciated to a low figure, the consumer still is paying fancy prices. It is contended by commission men and wholesalers that reduced retail prices would cause the consumers to use more eggs and butter. The president of a large packing company said yesterday:

"There are eggs today in Chicago which have been in storage for twenty-four months. They were unfit for food eighteen months ago. One concern offered by circular letter to sell its eggs at 2 1/2 cents a pound, claiming they had been spoiled in the cold-storage where they were stored. The price is equivalent to about 2 cents a dozen."

"It never has been known where a lot of this poisonous food was disposed of, but it always has found its way into the consuming public's stomach. Much good has been done by the United States government in the last year keeping close watch on the 'rotten egg trade.' It is to be hoped that they will prohibit absolutely the placing of any eggs in cans in the freezers during the coming year."

"The eggs are sold in the form of these eggs canned in seconds, spots of rot when they are placed in a can, and absolutely unfit for food. But when smashed up, mixed together and frozen solid as a rock, it is impossible for the baker or consumer to know exactly how good or how bad they are."

HOUSES ARE DESTROYED

Earthquake in European Turkey Causes Great Suffering

Constantinople, Feb. 20.—A violent earthquake was experienced at Monastir and elsewhere throughout the vilayet of Monastir today. There was some loss of life.

Several mosques and houses were destroyed. The population is camping out and suffering intensely with cold. The authorities have appealed to the government for 300 tents and relief funds.
